

Construction of container room base station in Vienna

The lightweight concrete ribbed slab forms adjacent the print zone of the composite carrier also the stiffening plates of the building structure. They result, together with the vertical trusses a tubular ...

Here, Vienna-based design collaborative KARAMBA3D and Bollinger-Grohmann-Schneider engineers are challenged with a site that is layered with existing plumbing utilities, underground sewers, a ...

The third basement floor is exclusively used as a collector floor and connects the building technology centres of the station building via ducts. Furthermore built around the new main station were roofed ...

Highly complex inner-city construction site combining projects by ÖBB, the City of Vienna, and private investors. The environmental impact assessment resulted in the requirement of comprehensive ...

Crucial insights for architects and engineers on shipping container design, including structural integrity, modular building techniques, and eco-friendly construction methods.

We explored the idea of a body set on supports high above the city's main arterial roads that generates a complex vertical public space beneath it--an urban structure that can be utilized for events ranging ...

This study was carried out for the design of an information box for the construction site of Vienna Central Station. The structure was to be raised 22 meters above ground level. Options for load transfer to the ...

Due to rising demand and high utilisation, ÖBB has announced that construction work on the final expansion stage, "Phase 2", will begin in early September 2025. This will increase the ...

On the southern outskirts of Vienna, the new multifunctional Freight Centre Vienna South, the new central station for freight traffic so to speak, was opened in December 2016.

The findings of this research seek to minimize construction errors by clar-ifying the container envelope and detail constructions with proven thermal performance.

Construction of container room base station in Vienna

Web: <https://www.upstreamjhb.co.za>

