

Making money from solar power is pure fraud

The U.S. solar market's growth has attracted unscrupulous companies that exploit consumers with false savings claims and fraud. Misleading sales tactics cause confusion and ...

And while they promise free or low-cost solar panels, or offer you huge rebates, tax credits, or utility incentives to pay for those solar panels, those are lies.

Learn how to spot solar panel fraud, avoid predatory contracts, and take action if you've been scammed, with guidance from Prevost Law Firm.

No information about the cost to remove or transfer solar panels, which could lead you to believe you have future options that might not be available or affordable

If it sounds too good to be true, it probably is. The solar industry's explosive growth has created real opportunities for homeowners to save money and reduce their carbon footprint. But it's ...

Some customers say they were victims of fraud and forgery. This threatens rooftop solar's impressive momentum. Now, some solar companies are working to repair the industry's ...

Beware of solar companies engaging in deceptive practices, including the submittal of falsified contracts. Some unethical sales representatives may lead customers to believe they are receiving an estimate ...

Solar panels are a great way to invest in your home and eventually reduce your power bills. However, installing solar panels is an expensive investment that takes years before they will pay...

The rooftop solar business is a big source of consumer complaints. Across the country, prosecutors are investigating sales practices and financing arrangements. Now the solar industry is ...

Beware of solar companies engaging in deceptive practices, including the ...

It's likely a scam. While there are some government-funded solar programs for households that qualify, "going solar" isn't free. Honest businesses will tell you exactly how much it'll ...

Making money from solar power is pure fraud

Web: <https://www.upstreamjhb.co.za>

